

STYLUS 1975

"Those were the days . . ."

Stylus '75
Windber Area High School
Windber, Pennsylvania

... Oh yes, those were the days! Thus, we, the 1975 Stylus Staff, have revolved the theme of our yearbook around the concept of nostalgia. In addition to this, as we live within the one hundred and ninety-ninth year of our country's existence, it seems appropriate to interlace a quick look at our nation's past as we prepare for its two hundredth anniversary celebration. It is the sincere hope of the staff to provide an entertaining and complete look at life in our school and to furnish the 1975 Senior Class with a cherished memento of their years at Windber Area High School.

"A treasured thought is in our minds
Of yesterdays gone by,
And sweet remembrance fills our hearts
To light a weary eye;
Today, a treasure to behold,
A shining glowing dream,
Tomorrow, ever waiting there,
Beyond our reach would seem."

(Tomorrow by Garnett Ann Schultz)

We, as seniors, have arrived at the one moment in life which will perhaps bring about our greatest surge of recall. The tomorrow which many of us have often doubted would ever be attained is finally upon us. Within the realm of this short life span, we have accumulated innumerable memories which, together, have resulted in what we are today: our ideals, opinions, values, hopes, and dreams. It sometimes seems sad to look upon our past, those happy carefree days of childhood, with Christmas plays, Valentine parties, trick or treating, and later, dances, elections, football and basketball games, and countless other items that make our school years as wonderful and important as they are.

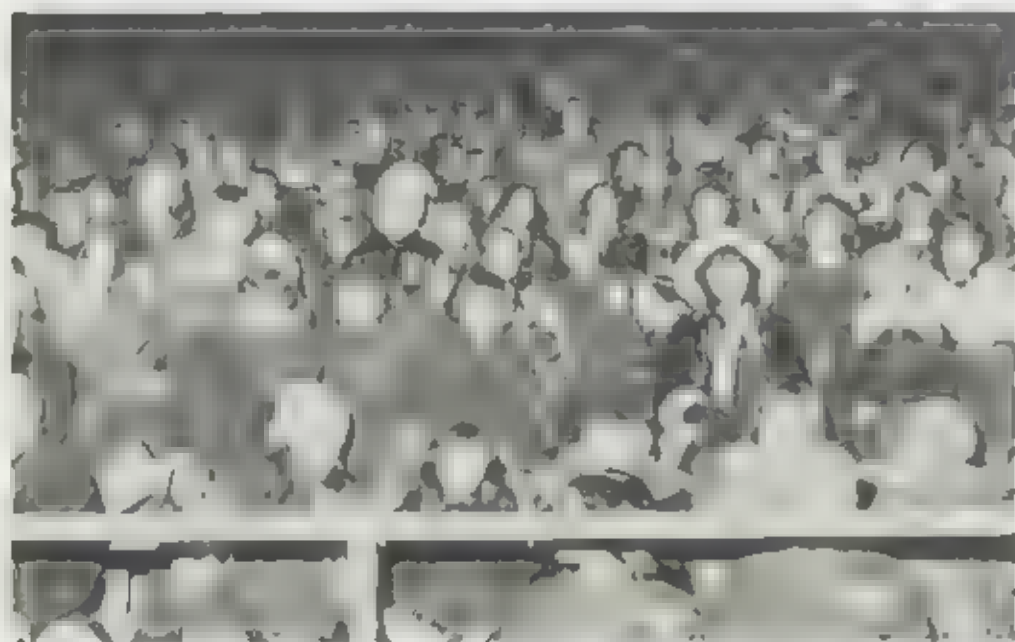

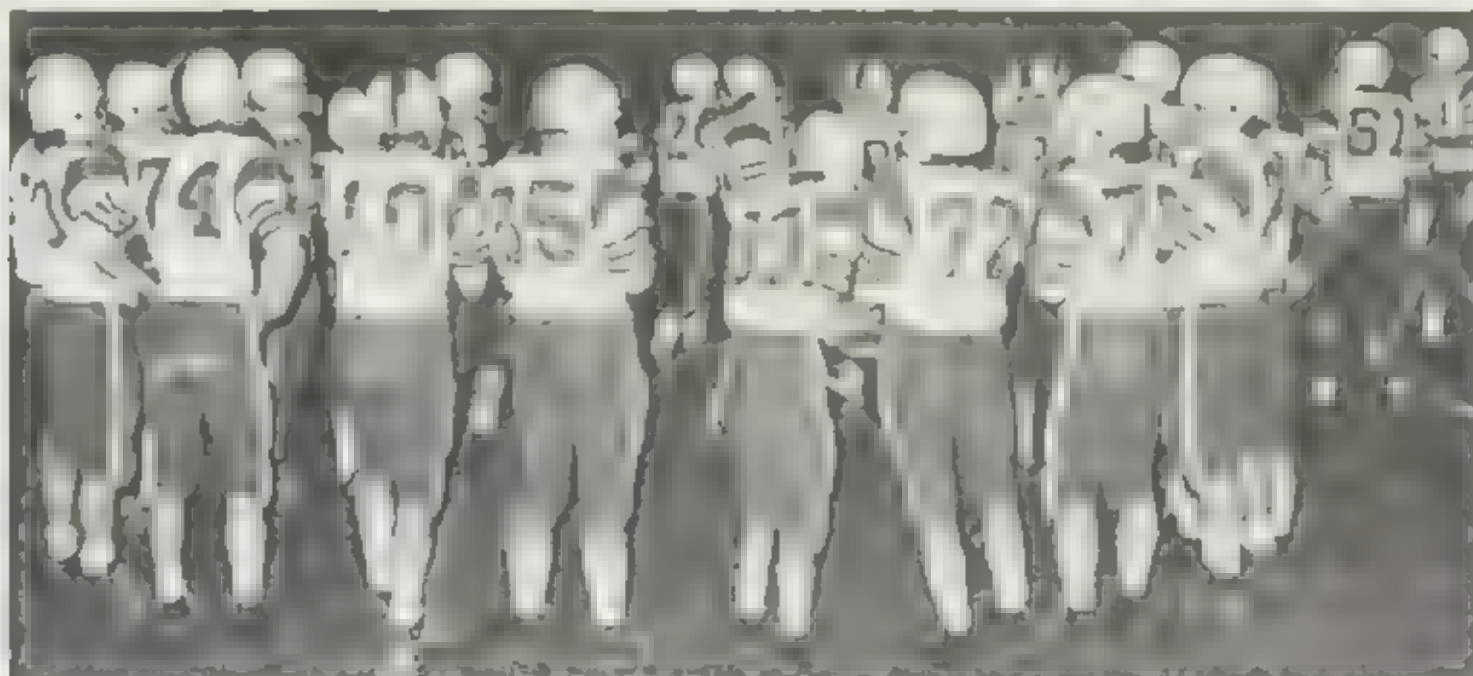

Now: however, it is time to depart from this period of life and to step into an entirely different world in which we must draw from our past experiences, relationships with people, and accumulated knowledge. It is necessary to call upon all that we have attained from our previous lives in order to cope with this new stage in the enchanting cycle of human life. Today itself will soon slip from our grasps so we must strive to fill these precious moments with those things that might begin to build our futures — our tomorrows . . .

"Tomorrow, what a precious word!
A promise rich and real,
The chance to realize a hope,
A glowing dream ideal;
Another dawn that's yet to be
A day that's ever fair,
Beyond the realm of yesterday . . .
A new tomorrow there."

SENIORS

"You are today where your thoughts have brought you; you will be tomorrow where your thoughts take you." (Ideals, J. Allen)

Where are you today? If you are a Senior, you are facing the end of a major part of your life, the only type of life you know, and the beginning of a new, uncertain, and sometimes frightening tomorrow. If you are an Underclassman, tomorrow seems to be so far away and the future seems beyond your reach.

For the Seniors, it seems that just a short time ago we entered WAHS as a small, uncertain seventh grader, yet we felt united with the other members of our class. Now, each Senior is preparing to leave WAHS. Each will go his or her own way, with only memories to keep the class united.

"A treasured thought is in our minds
Of yesterdays gone by . . ."

Memories — everyone has hundreds of them. First, there are the great memories of all those happy times that Seventh Grade skating party, trying out for the team and making it, and cheering at that "all-important" game, which ended in victory for your team.

There are those memories of the embarrassing moments we would like to forget: having everyone applaud when you dropped your tray in the cafeteria, making a wrong turn in a halftime show and realizing that you are the only band member at this end of the field, and being ordered to retrace your steps back UP the "up" staircase and to use the correct staircase next time!

Last of all, we have the bitter memories of all the disappointments: losing the game in the last seconds, missing the honor roll by one point, and finding out that the history "quiz" is in reality an 85 point test!

"Give me tomorrows full and bright,

A worthwhile task to do:

Fill my todays with endless chores

And make each gray sky blue." (Give Me A Faith, G. A. Schultz)

No one knows what lies in the future for each of us. However, one thing for certain is that the future will be what we make it — "You will then become as small as your controlling desire or as great as your dominant aspiration." (Ideals, J. Allen) I hope that each Senior will become as great as he or she can be.

To all Seniors, I wish the best of luck in all you do. To the Underclassmen, make each day of your remaining school years count, because they pass you by very quickly. May you have the best of luck in your future and may you have as many great times and happy memories as the Class of 1975 did.

FACULTY, and

ADMINISTRATION SERVICES

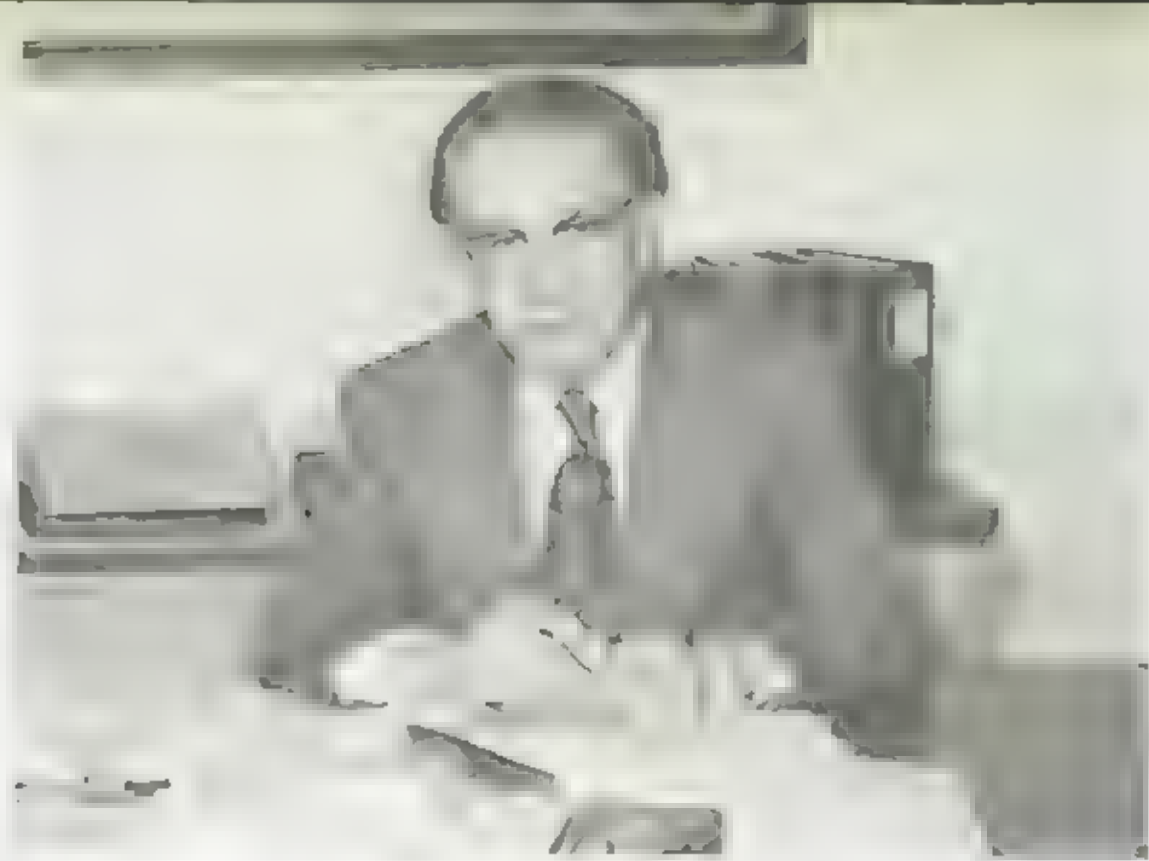

Dr. Charles A. Landis - Superintendent of Schools

Dear Graduating Students of 1975

Each of you have done so well in achieving the academic and citizenship standards which have underwritten your four years of high school education — Congratulations! These tasks have been accomplished through your efforts and incentive as well as the tutelage of your parents. Upon receipt of your high school diploma, more than any other event in your life, you are recognized as an adult in an adult world. I pray that through your school years you have been brought to realize that the drama of life lies not in soap operas, but in your own; that only by personal involvement and commitment to the ideals of freedom and responsibility as established by our forefathers, can our democratic way of life be perpetuated. The world today needs your every talent and ability, no matter the degree. While in the future there will not be teachers to grade you, nor parents to guide and sustain you, may you be all you are capable of being

Personal satisfaction and happiness always

Frank P. Alcamo - High School Principal

The position of principal requires a person who not only maintains the high standards of education, but also possesses the qualities of integrity, leadership, responsibility, and authority. At Windber, we are fortunate to have such a man as our principal, Mr. Frank P. Alcamo.

In his continuing service as principal, Mr. Alcamo has shown time and time again that the student body and faculty can rely on him in any matter concerning the school. Mr. Alcamo is special in that he goes beyond his administrative duties; he is also respected as an advisor and a person in whom students can place their trust. His concern lies not only in keeping the school running without flaws, but also in the students' activities and achievements.

James J. Lidonnice - Junior High Principal

In the position of Junior High Principal, we find an administrator with high qualifications, Mr. James J. Lidonnice. Through his day to day experiences with the students, Mr. Lidonnice has shown his dedication to the school, as well as cooperation and a desire for fairness. Along with handling the obligations of his own office, we can depend on Mr. Lidonnice to keep the school operating without error in the event of Mr. Alcamo's absence. Both the faculty and student body value his assistance.

In 1903, the first graduating class left the halls of Windber High School. At this time, Dr. O. J. Shank, G. Somerville, A. G. Bantley, Dr. H. L. Carlisle, Dr. C. A. Davis, and H. B. Frechurn were the members of the school board. Today's school board has come a long way since then, as is reflected by today's society. New problems have arisen since the early days of the school board and numerous changes have occurred within the lapse of time.

Today, as always, the school board members effectively deal with all the problems concerning our school. It is through the school board that our school runs smoothly and we thank the members for all of their dedication and service.

A Yearbook costs a lot of money. To find the funds to pay for it is the job of the Business Staff. They sell ads and work hard to find patrons. Besides this, the staff is in charge of getting subscriptions, working out assessments, and finally, the actual distribution of the Stylus. They sincerely hope that you enjoy and appreciate their work.

The Windber Band is definitely No. 1! This year our Music Makers have received a series of awards, beginning with a first place prize at the UPJ Homecoming Parade in October. Later that same day, the band again arose to victory in the "Cavalcade of Bands" in Martinsburg. In a field competition in Washington, they took home a second place award. Besides the instrumental section of the band, it also consists of Colorguard, Majorettes, Flag Twirlers, and the Flag Squad.

If anyone has gone to at least one game this year, they have seen these faces cheering our athletes on to victory. The cheerleaders have practiced endlessly throughout the year in order to be the best that they possibly could, and they have accomplished their goal. This year they brought home a first place trophy after participating in the WAABA Tournament. The squad also received second place in the annual War Memorial Contest. This year, a new addition to the squad was made, and Mr. Arthur Lambert became the new advisor. After the tremendous amount of hard work that the cheerleaders have put in to add to the status of our school, they are surely deserving of recognition by the students and the faculty.

Health Careers Club has become the new name of the Future Nurses of America this year. Besides changing the title of the organization, the policy of the club has also been altered. Now any boy who is seriously interested in a Health Career may join.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Olga Elias, the club visited state and children's hospitals this year. The purpose of these field trips was to allow the students to gain more knowledge of the type of work they wish to do in the medical profession.

Varsity W Dance 1974

VW King

The Varsity W Dance is held annually to honor all of the Senior football players for the hard work and countless hours that they devoted to support their school during the season. Our Rambler men had a good season this year with 8 wins and 2 losses. Not only were the football players honored at the VW Dance, but also all the Senior Band members and cheerleaders.

S. Drzewiecki, Maple Princess Denny Mash, King

Everyone waited anxiously to see who would be crowned king, and as Denny Mash's name was announced, the gym was filled with applause. Cheryl Drzewiecki was Denny's escort, and nineteen other couples were included on the court.

And it was a day that many will remember and cherish for a long time. Music for the evening was provided by Equinox. A post-prom sponsored by the United Clergy of Windber, took place after the prom at the high school. Refreshments were served in the cafeteria and entertainment included dancing, a movie, volleyball and basketball

8 Wins 2 Losses

The 1974-75 Rambler football team rode into training camp with two things on their minds, keeping a 14 game winning streak alive and defending their Mt. Conference Title of 1973.

After two long weeks of strenuous conditioning drills at their "Summer Resort," Camp Hamilton, the Ramblers buckled down for their home opener.

This year's team, led by seniors Jim Creek, Mark LaMonaca, Dave Wright, Frank Wozny, Larry Moschigat, Mike Furda, Dave Domonkos, Bob Moore, Bob Snyder, Dennis Mash, Vince Koshute, Tony Battiste, Rich Patterson, Frank Alt, Mark Sam, and Randy Livingston, faced a strong Vo Tech team in the Idlister at Windber Stadium. After a seesaw first quarter that saw no scoring, the Ramblers hit paydirt in the second stanza and led 6-0 at the half. An insurance touchdown in the fourth quarter was all the Ramblers needed as the defense held the Spartans scoreless. Final score was 12-0.

After the Friday night game was postponed by thunderstorms, the Ramblers travelled to Barnesboro for the second time in 24 hours to play the Northern Cambria Colts. The Blue Machine rolled up 26 points and surrendered a lone touchdown in their 26-6 thumping of the Colts.

Next on the schedule was arch-rival Richland. The Rams proved no match for the Ramblers as our team tacked on 28 points by the 4th quarter. Then Coach Flori emptied his bench of underclassmen as the Ramblers handed Richland their third consecutive loss with an impressive 28-6 victory.

Riding high on a 17 game winning streak, our Ramblers hosted the Punxsutawney Woodchucks the following week. The Blue and White Bunch held a 3-0 lead until late in the 4th quarter when the Ramblers were caught sleeping, and Punxsy scored with 1 minute and 45 seconds left in the game. A desperate comeback attempt failed, and the Ramblers were handed their first loss of the season by a heartbreaking 7-3 count.

Proving that all good teams come back, the Ramblers travelled to Somerset the next week and winged the Eagles by a 26-6 score.

Another rival, the Conemaugh Township Indians, invaded Windber Stadium to try to scalp the Ramblers. Try is all they did as the Ramblers rolled to a 20-0 lead by the 4th quarter. With most of the regulars watching from the sidelines, the Indians scored two late fourth quarter touchdowns, but victory No. 5 was in the hopper as the Ramblers held on for a 20-12 win. This set the stage for what was said to have been the most exciting game in Windber football in 20 years.

The Ramblers faced an undefeated and a much bigger Westmont team in a crucial Mt. Conference battle. After shellshocking the Toppers with 13 points in the first six minutes, the Ramblers earned a 28-14 lead into the halftime dressing room. But the never-say-die Westmont team came back to lead Windber by two points with two third quarter touchdown passes. The Rambler running game then got rolling and two 4th quarter touchdowns set the final score at 39-28.

The Ramblers then hit the road again. This time to the Point Stadium to face an injury-ridden Bishop McCort team. The mighty Ramblers out-chased the hobbled Crushers and gave them a 34-6 shellacking.

With sole possession of 1st place in the Mt. Conference, our Ramblers travelled to Sidman the following week to face the Forest Hills Rangers. The Ramblers took an early 7-0 lead in the first quarter but saw it wiped out by a second period Forest Hill's score. The Rangers then caught Windber off guard on the two point conversion and took an 8-7 lead to the dressing room. The Ramblers then saw a third quarter touchdown pass called back by a penalty. After that, everything seemed to go wrong for Windber. Forest Hills held on for an 8-7 victory in what proved to be the deciding factor which knocked Windber out of the Mountain Conference race.

In their final game of the season, our "75" gridders played a tough Central Cambria team. It was homecoming, and our Ramblers took out all of their frustrations left from Forest Hills and whipped the Devils to the tune of 26-6.

This left our Blue and White with a very respectable 8-2 record and runner up position in the Mountain Conference. Seeing that the two losses were decided by a mere five points, Coach Flori, his staff, and the team are to be commended for one of the finest and most exciting seasons ever played at WAHS.

Senior Cagers

This year's basketball team was one of the most exciting, crowd-pleasing teams to have come to the district in recent years.

Without a single man over six feet, Coach Flori's Ramblers had to resort to 32 straight minutes of scrap, sweat, and all-out aggressiveness.

Using such tactics as diving into the bleachers after loose balls, fastbreaks, 30 foot jumpshots, and so on, the Ramblers produced a crowd-pleasing brand of basketball where there was never a dull moment. They became a very popular team to both spectators and broadcasters alike.

Win or lose, each game was fascinating, exciting, and worth every minute. No matter where they traveled, the Ramblers seemed to spark spectators, both friend and foe, in large numbers. Trying to make Windber basketball what it should be, the Ramblers built fierce rivalries around the district that should last for years to come. They proved time and time again that they had the character and intestinal fortitude which all Rambler teams must possess in order to represent a town that accepts nothing less than excellence.

The team consisted of only two seniors. Gary Kiss and Dave Rich. Gary, the tallest man on the team at 5'11", was an excellent rebounder and a top notch scorer. With a picture-perfect jumpshot, Gary was one of the most accurate shooters in the district. Dave was the point guard and playmaker on offense, and a leading assist man. He also had a good outside shot which further added to the punch of the Rambler attack. Dave saw his career end short as he had to depart, a little past midway through the season, with a broken ankle.

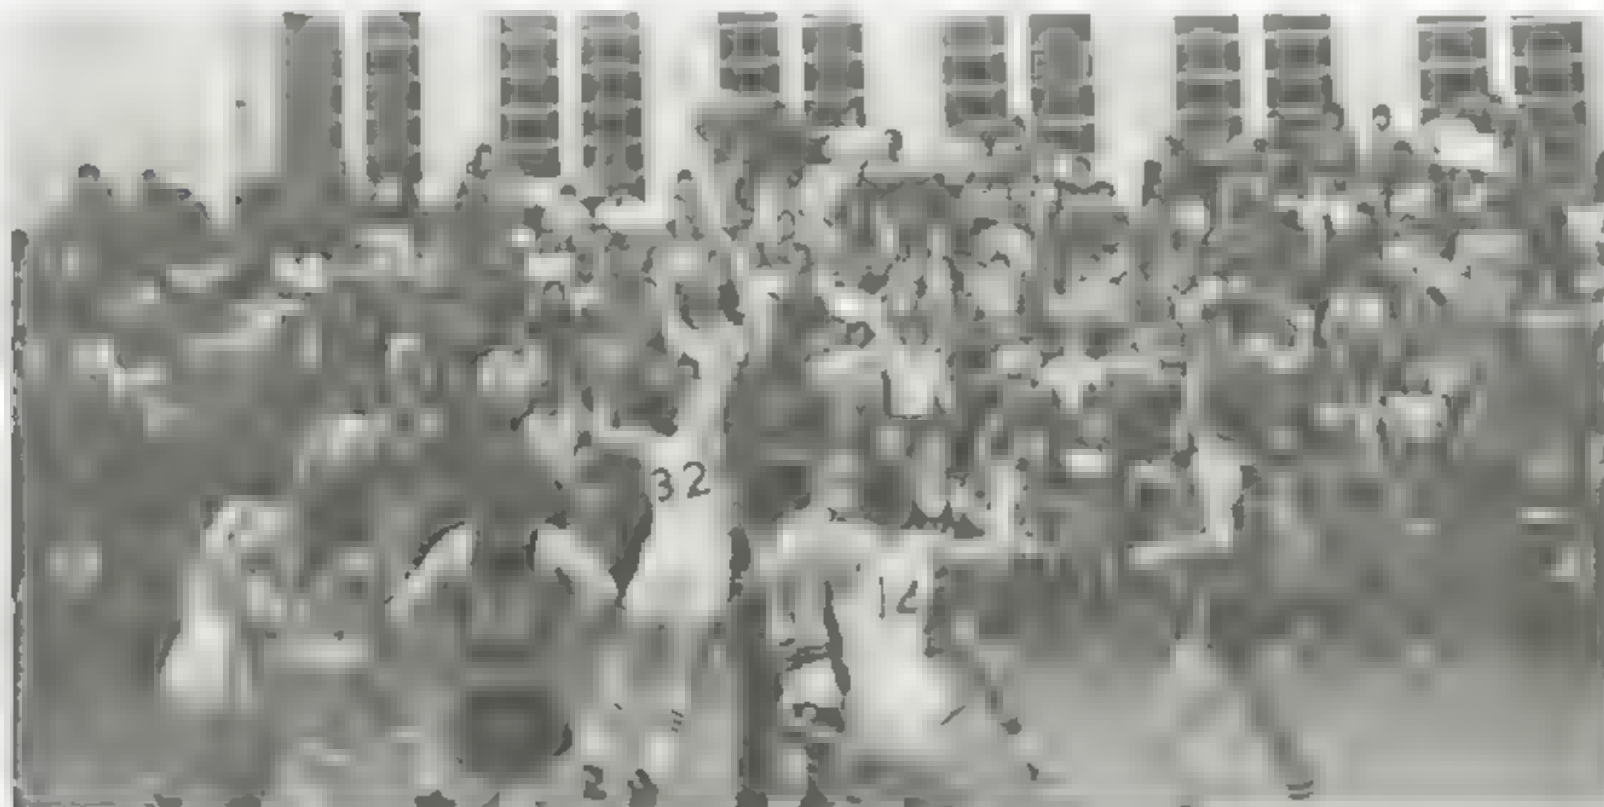

This year's team will certainly be one to be remembered. Most of all, they will be a model for future teams who will hopefully be even more impressive.

Dave Rich

Gary Kiss

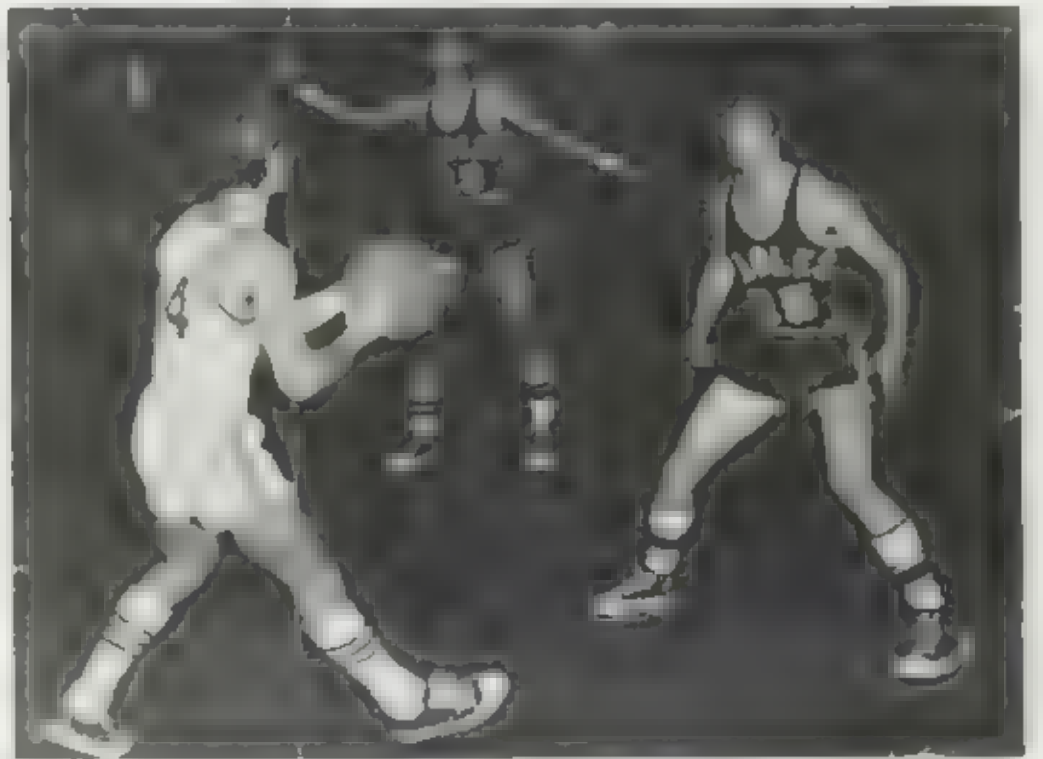

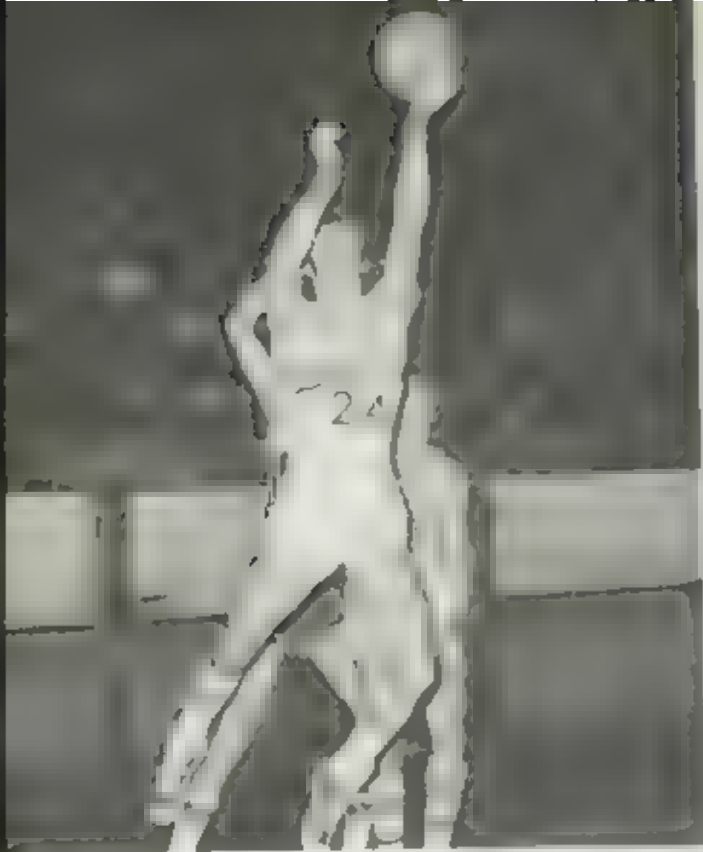

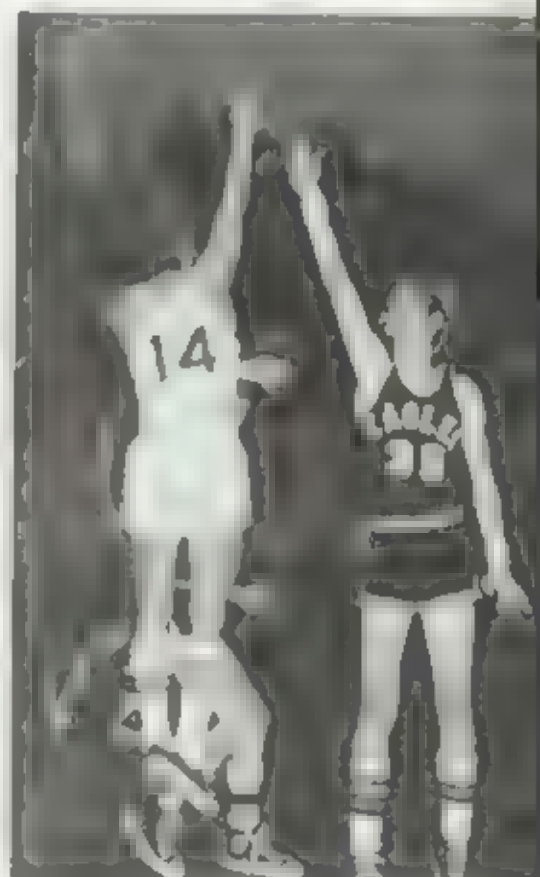

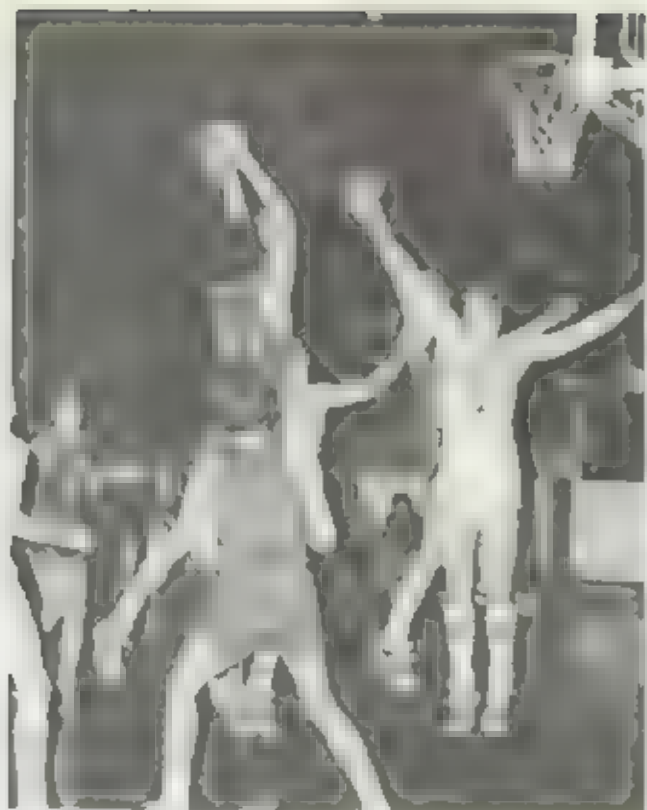

Go Bananas! This was the chant that could be heard echoing through the district this year. A verbal barrage that stunned opposing teams (and referees) game after game.

The above picture shows a typical scene at games this year. The Rambler marauders left as big an impression around the district as the team did. They seemed to enlighten each game and make them even more exciting.

Wherever the team traveled, their faithful followers were always there backing them every inch of the way. This added even more to the intensity of the rivalries built this year. Some opposing rooters tried to be somewhat of an obstacle but they were easily quelled. Our fans received recognition from the various radio broadcasters and newspaper reporters as being a very "colorful" and "vigorous" group, to say the least. The excitement generated through school spirit makes a person's high school years even more memorable. Our fans, like the team, will be a model for future years.

Varsity Baseball

Row 1 Coach G. Petro, R. Barwatt, D. Sheter, C. Trovato, P. Danel, J. Sadvari, V. Loffredo, J. Moym, Coach W. Lodojnski. Row 2 R. Damico, G. Gardner, D. Nagy, G. Petro, J. Bossi, P. Spinelli, J. This year's baseball team should be a strong contender for a sectional flag and should have a chance at the Tri-County baseball championship.

Coach George Petro will have an experienced senior squad whose lettermen are Pitchers: Bob Moore and Dave Wise, Catchers: Carmen Trovato and Paul Danel, Infielders and Outfielders: Gary Kiss, Jim Palumbo, and Rich Damico. Other seniors expected to play are Danny Spinelli, Bill Feather, John Ziats, Gary Gardner, and Jim Sadvari. Junior letterman George Petro, along with Dave Nagy and John Bossi, should help to mold a strong Rambler team.

Baseball being a game of breaks, this year's team, with some good breaks and a lot of desire from the upperclassmen, should have a very successful season. Stress will be placed on aggressiveness, defense, and fundamental execution.

Senior Stickmen

A growing interest in the sport of golf was evident at Windber this year by the fifteen-member squad. Four of these golfers were lettermen from last year. They were: seniors Bob Stiffler, Dave Rich and Patrick Spinelli and junior John Bossi. Other seniors on the team were Tony Sutor, Bob Shark, and Vince Loffredo. The interest seemed to stem from the fun of playing the sport, plus the fact that golf is the only sport in which a person gets to know his opponent as he plays against him. Coach John Kawchak and "Gump" Polanski helped each individual golfer in developing his swing and giving each their overall knowledge of the sport.

The cross country team was in a rebuilding year with only two returning lettermen. They were senior co-captains Bob Shark and Bob Stiffler. Other senior members of the team were Alan Stavrook and Barry Horbal. This sport is sometimes overlooked because it is played during football season, but the harriers worked hard at this seemingly unrecognized and endurance-testing sport. The hard work payed off as the Ramblers were no pushover for any team and always seemed to be at their best against the toughest opponents. This was the third year for cross country at Windber and Coach Tom Quitko is looking forward to the upcoming years with optimism.

The track team is expecting a very good season with twenty returning lettermen. Twelve of the lettermen are seniors. They are Denny Mash, Vince Koshute, Dave Domonkos, Bob Snyder, Mike Furda, Randy Livingston, Barry Horbal, Paul Pinto, Mark Sam, Dave Oatman, Frank Alt, and Mark LaMonaca. This year's team seems to have the depth needed for a good season. They also seem to be strong in every aspect of the sport which is very important in this sport. Coaches William Smutko, Tom Quitko, and Mike Spinazzola seem to have good reason to be optimistic about this year's track team the indomitable American Spirit, the eternal verities. Maybe, but you won't find those here, either. Keep looking somewhere else if you're interested. What we have for you is an America that is usually forgotten, sometimes not even remembered, occasionally best left undisturbed beneath its rock. Your history books have given you the hopes, dreams, promises and realizations of America. For our 200th birthday we give you a second look. And we give it to you one year early.

100 years of production
waste and growth

As a young nation, America didn't have all that much time for fads and crazes, since most of us were more concerned with mundane things like clearing fields, building cabins, farming, raising children and working. When people did get together for a little fun, well, there were always witch trials, or killing buffalo from the observation car of a transcontinental train. George Washington and Thomas Jefferson were patrons of cock fighting, and by the mid-1800's phrenology became popular. Generally, however, there just wasn't very much to do. Leisure industries didn't boom until the 40-hour work week became widespread.

Cycling was introduced in the 1860's. The first wheel-less bicycles known as Flying Yankee Wheels. They were popularized by Americans, but sales dropped when people discovered that it took a year to ride one. High-wheel bicycles followed, and the taller a rider was, the bigger a front wheel he could straddle. Short men took up tricycles. By the turn of the century, the bicycle's back wheel was the same size as the front and bicycling became the first true fad, followed quickly by roller skating, and then roller polo, which was a kind of ice hockey on wheels.

When the Civil War ended, fighting men brought home a wide assortment of diseases and an insatiable demand for remedies and patent medicines. Cures were invented for liver rot, falling hair, tuberculosis, flatulence, impotency, indigestion, cancer, polio, and warts. You could order any of them from a wholesale house in Chicago or St. Louis for 25¢ plus postage and handling. Two reasons for the popularity of these remedies were the most common ingredients: alcohol and opium. Even if people weren't actually cured, at least they didn't care so much.

Trading Cards swept the nation in the mid-1880's, depicting baseball players, politicians and music hall performers. Playing cards were circulated with illustrations of people, and there were even trading cards that pictured patent medicines.

Jazz music's journey up the Mississippi from New Orleans to Chicago is well chronicled, but by the turn of the Twentieth Century it was another indigenous musical form, Ragtime, that was sweeping the country. Nothing remotely as popular appeared on the musical scene until Bill Haley, Fats Domino, Chuck Berry and their friends blew open the 1950's.

June, 1888. George Eastman patents and registers his Kodak No. 1, a camera which uses roll film and does not require a tripod or table for support.

1889. Elizabeth Cochran, a reporter for the New York World using the name Nellie, travels around the world in 72 days.

September 28, 1891. Herman Melville dies.

1892. James Naismith introduces basketball at the YMCA Training School in Springfield, Massachusetts. The peach basket employee retains its bottom so that the ball must be removed by hand after each successful goal.

May 10, 1893. Locomotive #99 of the New York Central attains a speed of more than 112 miles per hour.

1894. Colonel Royal Page Davidson creates the first military bicycle corps at Northwestern Military Academy, Lake Geneva, Wisconsin. Sixteen cadets ride bicycles equipped with clips for carrying rifles.

1895. William George Morgan of the Holyoke, Massachusetts YMCA invents volleyball.

May 6, 1896. Samuel Pierpont Langley's 26-pound, 16-foot airplane makes the first heavier-than-air propelled flight. Langley's airplane is powered by a one-horsepower steam engine.

May 30, 1896. Henry Wells of Springfield, Massachusetts, driving a Duryea Motor Wagon strikes Evelyn Thomas, who is riding a bicycle, causing the first automobile accident. Wells is incarcerated overnight awaiting a report on Ms. Thomas's injuries.

In 1923, Joseph Babcock transliterated an ancient Chinese game and copyrighted it as Mah Jongg. Mah Jongg was a flash fad — the whole country played it for several months — then the bottom dropped out, leaving $2 million in unsalable Mah Jongg boards in the hands of retailers.

The twin crazes of prohibition and bootlegging totally dominated the 1920's, engrossing the entire population, but with the onset of the Great Depression, hysterical frivolity took on unforeseen dimensions. Flapjacks sitting became a national sport, and college students took to swallowing hundreds of live goldfish at a single sitting. While never as popular, phonograph record eating provided considerable diversion.

Chain letters promising huge fortunes were circulated widely during the depression, and the whole country began playing miniature golf.

World War II provided a sobering influence. The population put aside the frantic pursuits of the previous two decades and began saving string and aluminum foil, and blacking out huge cities at night. By the end of the war, America was ready for Frank Sinatra, the biggest heartthrob since Rudolph Valentino. Frankie faded, but was soon followed by Johnny Raye, Frankie Lane, Eddie Fisher, Julius LaRosa, Pat Boone, Elvis Presley, Ricky Nelson, Tom Jones, Johnny Cash, Robert Goulet and Alice Cooper.

Fess Parker showed up in 1955 on Walt Disney's TV program as Davy Crockett, and caused every kid in the country to go out and buy a coonskin hat. These were worn while hula hooping, trampolining and go-karting. Comic books peaked in the 1950's, and pogo sticks, stilts, and voyos underwent semiannual revivals.

Backyard bomb shelters heralded the 1960's, a decade of political consciousness that was captioned by pithy bumper stickers of every persuasion. Frisbees were thrown everywhere, underground newspapers were published, and rock music became even more a part of everyday life.

The 60's were years of unrest, assassinations, turmoil, riots and social change. They left America stunned, tired and ready for the 70's, and the decade's biggest fad — nostalgia for the remnants of every other decade of the century.

WINDBER STORY

In the mid-1700's there is mention of traders, pack horsemen and hunters who had established permanent headquarters near the present site of Windber.

John Fyock is believed to have been the first permanent settler to establish himself within the territory that is now known as the Windber area. It is known that he came during the last quarter of the 18th century.

Jacob Eash, another early settler along Paint Creek, called on his neighbors to help clear his land. He urged them to "scalp the ground level", and Scalp Level it is to this day. While the name Scalp Level has been officially changed to Paint Borough, it still marks the site of one of the earliest settlements in Somerset County.

1830 was a progressive year for the early settlers of the Windber region. In that year the first real tannery in the Upper Paint Creek Valley was built by Gorrliab Straub on a Paint Creek branch known as Seese Run, located on what is now the area between Veil Avenue and Center Street in Windber. It stood for 116 years before it was demolished in 1946. John Messerbaugh, in 1830, built the first up-and-down sawmill on Paint Creek. It was located at the bend of the creek on what is now the section of Windber between the police station and the community building on Graham Avenue. In that same year, Messerbaugh rigged up a flax breaking machine, the first of its kind along Paint Creek. The machine was located on what is now Graham Avenue near the police station.

Many of the early settlers of the Paint Valley came across the mountains via the Lower Path which was cut in 1755 by James Burd and in 1758 was extended across the mountains by General Forbes and was then known as the Forbes Road. The Lincoln Highway closely parallels this old path. Many others who found their way into the Windber region came by the "high road" or the Frankstown Trail. The main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad now parallels the old trail.

Between these two mountain trails there was another path which connected the headwaters of Dunning's Creek in Bedford County with the forks of the Conemaugh and Stonycreek. James Dunning, the Indian trader, was probably the first white man to use this trail in the early 1700's. If this assumption is correct, he was the first white man ever to walk down the path that was later to be Windber's main street - Graham Avenue. This trail was later known as the Bedford-Johnstown Pike and is now Route 56.

Other cross trails which connected the Forbes Road and Frankstown Road are now improved highways. Of these roads, routes 219 and 220 are now the most important.

In 1864, David bought John Messerbaugh's holdings along Paint Creek which included almost all of the land that is now Windber Borough. Shaffer cleared land, and built the first modern house in the community.

Before the newcomers arrived to Windber, Shaffer had already begun to shape the destiny of the Paint Creek Valley by lending a hand to the already established furnaces, forges, and mills. Taking a step forward he opened a vein of coal to supply the local demand for this new type of fuel. This mine, the first coal mine to be opened in this locality, was located near what is now the corners of Cambria Avenue and 15th Street in Windber.

In 1893 the tract of land owned by David Shaffer was sold to James S. Cunningham, the advance agent in field operations for the Berwind-White Coal Mining Company.

The paper plans of the Berwind-White Coal Co. were traced across the open fields and meadows of Shaffer's farm and streets and avenues were soon to take the place of lanes and cow paths. The Berwind-White Co., transposing the syllables of Charles F. Berwind's name, was to give this new site a local habitation and a name - Windber. This community was soon to grow into the largest center of population in Somerset County. James S. Cunningham, known as the Father of Windber, acquired more than 100 square miles of territory along the upper reaches of Paint Creek for the Berwind-White Mining Co.

In September, 1897, the first of the Berwind-White Company's mines in the Windber area was opened, Eureka Mine Number 30. Following in rapid succession, Eureka Mines numbers 31 and 42 were developed and installed with electric haulage, and it was said that, "this equipment is probably the largest and best soft coal installation in the world," producing more than ten thousand tons of Eureka Coal per day.

The Scalp Level Railroad was started in 1897, and extended from Sidman to the Windber coal field. This was a single track railroad for shipping coal. A double track was laid through the town in 1899. The first coal was shipped from Windber in the fall of 1897. The first passenger train came to Windber in June, 1898.

The Berwind Co. laid plans for a new town - a center of population apart from the mining operations that would attract workers as well as businessmen from all parts of the world. Under the supervision of Cunningham H. Denman staked out the present town of Windber in 1897. At the time, the boundary lines of the plan of the new town enclosed but three buildings: David Shaffer's old home, another dwelling house and a small one-room schoolhouse.

Unlike many so-called "coal towns" where "company houses" are built in uniform and regimented rows, the broader vision of the Berwind-White Co. invited their workers to share in the designing of the kind of houses they were to live in. The difference in this plan being, that instead of "houses for workers" the new buildings that began to mushroom along the banks of Paint Creek became "homes for participants in a great enterprise" - designed, built, and paid for by their respective owners.

Windber's first Eureka Store was completed and stocked in 1897. It was listed as the Eureka Supply Co., Ltd., with H. D. Edelblute as district manager.

The tonnage produced by the Berwind-White Coal Mining Company in the Windber area during its first fifty years of operation staggers the imagination. The figures mount up to meaningless proportions when looking at cold statistics which show that 291,656,300,000 pounds of coal have been shipped from the Windber mines up to December 31, 1946.

Graphically presented, this would show a train of 50-ton railroad cars 19,057 miles long, or a distance equal to the circumference of the earth at the 40th parallel (19,101.6 miles).

Viewed from the vantage point of some neighboring planet, this train load of Berwind coal would be seen as a string of 50-ton railroad cars girding the globe.

The Berwind-White Coal Mining Company opened up one of the largest bituminous coal fields in the world.

Windber Borough was incorporated July 2, 1900.

Lumbering got started in a big way in the Windber area when a group of Pittsburgh men organized the Babcock Lumber Co. The late E. V. Babcock, once mayor of Pittsburgh, was president. In 1898, the Babcock Company had an invested capital of more than $600,000 with which to purchase more than 300 million feet of standing timber near Windber. Few traces remain today of the towns which sprang up around the Babcock sawmills in Ashtola near the turn of the century. The Babcock Lumber Co. employed approximately 500 men and turned out finished lumber at the rate of 100,000 feet per day.

Operating on a smaller scale, but with a longer range program, M. E. McNeal entered the lumber business in 1899 by buying what was then known as the Thomas Mill. In the 1940's the McNeal Lumber Co. operated eleven sawmills and employed about 80 men delivering about 7,000,000 feet of lumber to the Berwind Mining Co. each year.

After E. J. Berwind acquired the coal lands for the Berwind-White Coal Mining Co., the mineral rights were taken over by the Wilmore Coal Co., while the surface rights were put into the hands of the Wilmore Real Estate Co.

The Wilmore Real Estate Co. looked upon their timber as a crop to be harvested not exploited, and they practiced timber harvesting. That company reforested 3,000 acres of land with almost a half-million trees.

While it was natural that mining and lumbering should be the leading industries of Windber, other industries also played an important role in the development of the community.

Among the natural resources of the Paint Creek Valley, there is an eight-foot vein of clay which has attracted the attention of businessmen throughout the years. While the quality of this clay would insure finer products, the bulk of the raw material was used in the manufacture of bricks.

Because of the high quality of these bricks, they were chosen for the construction of the underground passages of the Pennsylvania Station in Washington, D.C. Other equally important building projects called for Windber bricks.

The seven kilns of the Windber Brickyard had a capacity of 90,000 bricks, with two days required for drying.

Because of the abundance of pure mountain water in this vicinity, several local businessmen looked upon this area as an ideal site for a brewery. Pooling these resources these men succeeded in establishing the Windber Brewing Co. which continued operation up until 1919 when the manufacture of alcoholic beverages was prohibited by law.

The Windber Lumber Co. had its beginning in the early days of the community. By merging with several smaller units in the area, the Windber Lumber Co., in the 1940's, was one of the leading manufacturers of lumber products in Somerset County.

To supply the need for daily bread for Windber and the neighboring towns, the Callen Baking Co. was established in 1909 by James Callen, Sr.

Among the various labor organizations which have been influential in improving working conditions in the Windber area are the United Mine Workers of America. Union Local 6186 of Windber was organized and granted a charter on July 22, 1933. Union Local 5229 of Scalp Level was organized and granted a charter on Aug. 26, 1936. The Scalp Level Local 7925 of the United Mine Workers of America was organized to bargain with the Reitz Coal Co. A charter was granted to this union on March 12, 1943.

The South Fork Railroad and the Scalp Level Railroad were merged in 1902 under the name of the South Fork Railroad Company. It owned about 45 miles of road at that time, and was absorbed by the Pennsylvania Railroad on April 1, 1903. This railroad maintained a daily freight schedule from Windber to its main line.

Following the waterlevel of the Paint Creek Valley, an electric trolley line was built in 1902 to establish passenger service between Windber and Johnstown. Due to the 1936 flood this line was abandoned in that year and the more efficient motor buses of the Johnstown Traction Co. took over this service.

With the development of the railroads, mail service was transferred to Johnstown and was carried to Windber by mail carts. Shortly after Windber was incorporated as a borough in 1900, a branch office of the Western Union Telegraph Co. was set up. Telephone communication was established in 1898 when the Salix Telephone Co. extended their line into Windber. At the same time the Bell Telephone Co. also set up an exchange in Windber.

With the incorporation of the Borough in 1900, the city government under its charter consisted of a Burgess, seven councilmen and a high constable. The council was to appoint, subject to the Burgess' confirmation, a city clerk, street commissioner, police, attorney, the officers of the fire department, board of health and a city engineer. Herick Thomas was elected to fill the position as the first Burgess of Windber. P. F. Godel was the first chief of police. S. W. McMullen, who followed P. F. Godel as Windber's police chief, served his community for 26 years.

As settlements sprang up, bucket brigades were formed to combat the ever-present danger of fire, but with the rapid development of the town of Windber, a far more efficient organization was needed to bridle the "Red Horseman."

The first formal steps to organize the Windber Fire Co. No. 1 were taken at a meeting held July 11, 1899, at the Windber Hotel, with S. H. Mills acting as chairman. On July 15, the Windber Fire Co. was granted a charter by the Somerset County Court and S. H. Mills was elected on July 19 to serve as its first president.

In 1898 when there was danger of a smallpox epidemic in Windber, the doctors of the town, Dr. O. J. Shank, Dr. H. L. Carlisle, Dr. J. W. Haws, Dr. C. A. Davis, Dr. J. W. Clark, Dr. L. E. Davies, and Dr. J. C. Shook were almost powerless to combat the disease. Not because they were ignorant of cause and effect and cure, but because they lacked proper equipment to deal with this emergency.

In January, 1906, E. J. Berwind was responsible for the building of the Windber Hospital on Somerset Avenue. Dr. William Stuart Wheeling, physician and surgeon, was put in charge of this modern medical center. A part of that center was a nurses' training school and nurses' home where recruits were trained to fill the ranks of the profession.

The Windber Hospital with its staff took the place of the "horse and buggy doctor" in the town of Windber. Pennsylvania's first medical machine brought the latest scientific knowledge and equipment into the Paint Creek Valley.

With the rapid development of Windber it was not only a desire but a necessity that the schools should not lag. And under the newly formed Windber Board of Education, Public School Building Number One was built. J. J. Shaffer was elected principal for the school term of 1899-1900. This was Windber's first public school, which stood on the present site of the West End Elementary School.

When the first elementary school was completed, plans for a high school were already under way, and by 1900 this institution, the New Red Brick High School, now part of West End Elementary School, was already established with classes enrolled. In 1903 members of the first graduating class were handed their diplomas. A few years later Mine 35 Elementary School, located on Railroad Street, was built as was the East End Elementary School on Graham Avenue. The high school was relocated from Somerset Avenue and 13th Street to its present location on 23rd Street and Graham Avenue.

In 1830 Christian Lehman was elected as the first minister of the Shade Creek Congregation of the Church of the Brethren and it was 28 years later, 1858, before a church was built. This was the first church in the Wildwoods of the Shade Creek Valley. Joseph Berkey was the first pastor. This church is now known as the Berkey Church of the Brethren.

In 1858 the Mt. Zion Evangelical Lutheran Church was built in Paint Borough, in 1866 the Evangelical United Brethren Church of Scalp Level was organized, and in 1874 the Rummel Church of the Brethren was erected. In 1867 the Scalp Level Church of the Brethren was built and in 1886 the Ogletown Church of the Brethren was dedicated.

On November 6, 1898, the Rev. E. F. Wiggle of the Church of the United Brethren in Christ preached the first sermon in what is now Windber proper. In the fall of 1899 a church house was completed - the United Brethren Church.

In 1900 a Presbyterian Church, the first United Evangelical Church in Windber and St. John Cantius Church were built. In 1903 the Grace Lutheran Church of Rummel was dedicated. In 1905 the Windber Church of the Brethren was erected. Saints Cyril and Methodius Church was formed in 1905 for the Slovaks, St. Anthony's in 1907 for the Italians, St. Mary's for the Magyars in 1912 and the Church of the Holy Child of Jesus for the English-speaking Catholics in 1921. The S. S. Peter and Paul Greek Catholic Church was organized in 1936. Other early churches included St. Mary's Greek Catholic Church, The First Lutheran Church, the Windber Methodist Church, The Grace Evangelical United Brethren Church, the Hungarian Reformed Church and the Assembly of God.

The first stadium in Windber was built in 1900 and was known as the Dewey Field. This field was improved and enlarged in 1917 and is known today as the Delaney Field. For year around recreation, Windber Recreation Hall was built in 1910. For those who enjoyed the more leisurely forms of recreation, Windber's Recreation Park was built in 1910. Nearby Camp Tuscarora provided the community with swimming facilities and, during the winter months, a nearby field was flooded to serve as a skating pond.

Windber track teams got their start back in 1901 when rival fire companies competed for cash prizes offered by leading citizens of the town.

The first basketball team in Windber was organized in 1901. Growing in strength and popularity, the Windber Independents won the National League Championship in 1907. In 1917 Windber's Big Five carried off the Somerset County Basketball Tournament championship.

Windber's first baseball team was organized in 1902, and soon won recognition in the tri-county area.

The first football team was organized in 1908. Several of Windber's early players later achieved fame on the gridirons of the nation.

While boxing was a minor attraction in Windber, several outstanding records in the ring were made by Windber boys. In 1908 the World's Featherweight Championship was lost by a Windber boy, only because of a hand injury sustained during the match.

Windber's first electric power service was established in 1897 by the Windber Electric Co. This first power plant was located at Lureka Mine 35. Up until 1920, the Windber Electric Co. had four plants serving the electrical needs of Windber. In that year a single power house was built to take the place of the older units. Sections of Windber were also served with steam heat from the same plant.

The completion of the first system of water works in 1898 insured a plentiful supply of water. The source of this water system was the old Windber Reservoir on Big Paint Creek.

As Berwind began curtailing its operation after World War II, Windber's unemployment rate began to climb and in 1950 there were approximately 4,000 miners out of work.

The need for new industries was realized and the Community Development Corp. of Windber was formed. Community Development along with the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority, succeeded in bringing diversified industry into the community. Some of the major firms providing employment in Windber today are: the Miller Concrete Block Co., Bestform Foundations, Windber Post Office, Iron City Sash and Door, Thiele Body Co., Windber Hospital, Berwind White Car Shop, M. Glosser & Sons, Inc., Church of the Brethren Home, LaMonaca's Bakery, True-Form Foundation, Jefferson Avenue Shopping Center, Buchanan Lumber Supply Co., Hiteshew Planing Mill, Eureka Department Store, and Leshe Whitaker & Son.

In 1952 the Somerset County commissioners announced approval for the construction of low-cost homes in Windber, the Stadium Terrace Project. More trade was brought to Windber by the construction of the 6-mile Windber Bypass in 1954. After the 1954 flood brought great damage to Windber, the Flood Control & Redevelopment Authority was formed with J. Irving Whalley serving as chairman. A $2½ million flood control and urban renewal project for the center of Windber began in 1962. The center-town creek was re-routed and Windber was made flood-free. In 1964, as a continuance of the urban renewal, a new telephone building was constructed on redeveloped land in Windber's downtown area. In 1965 Windber's new post office was constructed adjacent to the telephone building.

In 1967, the old Pennsylvania Railroad Station was renovated to house the Windber Public Library and in 1970, Windber's old post office building was turned over to the Penn's Woods Council of the Boy Scouts for their main headquarters.

The borough has plans of expanding the Jefferson Avenue Shopping Center.

In 1962, Berwind-White closed the Eureka 37 mine. This was the last of the 13 Berwind mines that were once operated in the district.

The largest mines now operating in Windber are the Jandy Coal Co., located at the Mine 40 site, Country Club Coal Co., the former Mine 35 and the Longwall Mines, Mine 36 area. The Longwall Mines plan to expand their operations in the near future.

Bethlehem Mines have moved into the Mine 36 and 42 areas. When the coal begins to roll, they plan to hire 250 employees. The construction of a cleaning plant at the Bethlehem Mine site is in the long-range planning stage.

Although the Berwind Co. no longer mines her famous "B" seam of bituminous coal in Windber, it has not forgotten its "creation." The company has donated several of her buildings to the borough. Among them are the former Berwind Office Building, now the Windber Borough Building; the former Berwind Club House, now a borough parking lot; the former Officials' House, which was sold by the borough, and the original David Shaffer Farm House, now housing the Windber Museum. In addition, several land sites formerly owned by Berwind have been donated to the Borough.

There are 24 churches in the Windber area representing all nationalities and faiths. In 1970, the United Clergy of the Windber Area was formed and each year a community worship service is held where people of all faiths gather to worship and praise God. In 1957, an Oral Roberts Crusade held at the Windber Stadium drew a crowd of 150,000 people.

The greater Windber area has a population of approximately 12,000. The outlying districts protect and govern their own areas. Windber Borough is governed by Mayor Thomas Panelli and a seven man council.

Since 1917, the Windber schools have operated as an independent district.

In the spring of 1958, ground was broken for a $2.3 million addition to the high school. The new building was occupied for the first time as Windber Joint High School (grades 7-12) in the fall of 1959. A jointure had been formed with Paint Borough, Scalp Level Borough, Paint Township and Windber Borough. Ogle Township joined the group in 1961 when the system officially became a merged school district known as the Windber Area School District. Today the Windber Area Jr.-Sr. High School building has a rated pupil capacity of 1220 students.

Elementary buildings in the district include East End, West End, Maple Drive and Hoffman Avenue. The Windber Catholic School Board also operates two elementary parochial schools in the district.

Over the past 71 years Windber Area High School has graduated approximately 8,700 students.

Up until Nov. 1, 1970, the Windber Hospital complex was owned by the Berwind-White Coal Mining Company. On that date the coal company released its claims on the multi-million dollar facility and the hospital became a division of the Conemaugh Valley Memorial Hospital of Johnstown. On July 1, 1973, after an unsuccessful effort to operate the two hospitals as one, the Windber Hospital, for the first time in her history, became a community-owned, non-profit general hospital.

The Windber Electric Co., established in 1897, still serves the Windber area. The company no longer produces its own power but purchases it from Penelec. The old power-producing plant is now owned by M. Glosser & Son. The Windber Electric Corp. is a subsidiary to Berwind-White.

In 1967 plans were pushed for a new Windber Area Joint Sanitary Authority to include Windber, Paint Borough, Scalp Level, Paint Township and parts of Richland Township. In December, 1970, the authority purchased the Richland Township Water Co. and all its equipment for $1.6 million. The authority installed a new sewage treatment plant at Ingelode in 1971 and in 1973 received a $50,000 grant from the State Dept. of Commerce for construction of the Paint Ogle Twp. Water System.

The Windber Community Broadcasting Station, Windber's first, was formed by several businessmen in 1964. WWBK is its station name.

For years Windber had its own newspaper, The Windber Era. The Johnstown Tribune Publishing Co. bought out the Windber Publishing Co. and The Windber Era now appears as a supplement to the Tribune-Democrat.

The Windber Stadium, constructed in 1948 on a 22-acre site, has a seating capacity of 7,200. The most recent addition to the stadium, which is managed and supervised by the Windber Recreation Association, was a new field house in 1971.

The Windber Recreation Park, which consists of a swimming pool, picnic grounds, playgrounds and general recreation facilities, was leased to the Windber Fire Co. by Berwind-White in 1952. The facility is now handled by the Windber Area Swim Club.

In 1959 Windber built its own country club with an 18 hole golf course.

In 1967 the old Recreation Hall was closed and later demolished. In 1973 the ground was broken for a new Community Center.

The Delaney Field, now privately owned, is still the center of many youth activities. In July, 1973, a new recreational area was constructed across from the Delaney Field and is controlled by the borough. This area has several tennis courts and is used for ice skating in the winter.

Johnny Weismuller, Tarzan of the movies and Olympic swimming champion, was born in Windber and probably took his first dip in "Old Paint Creek."

Sports achievements in the "town that coal built" have helped to secure a solid place on the map for Windber. From the beginning, Windber has won enviable records in baseball, basketball, football, track and other competitive sports. Several of Windber's athletes have achieved fame on the national level. Frank Kush, a former Windber gridiron star, has been the head football coach at Arizona State University since 1957. In 1971 the Windber Area High School Football team ended with an undefeated, untied season and was named number 3 among 194 Class B public and parochial high school football teams in Pa.

Considering the remarkable achievements of clearing a spot in a mountain wilderness and developing the largest community center in Somerset County, there should be little concern for the future of Windber.

The way of life of the pioneers of the Paint Creek Valley perhaps mirrors the future of Windber far better than random speculation. It was the destinies, to face unflinchingly the trials of misfortune, to share with their neighbors a bountiful harvest, that tamed the wilderness.

Now that you have arrived at the end of our book and of the school year, we are hoping that much has been gained and will be remembered. We have provided cartoons of school life two years ago as a means of entertainment and a chuckle. It should be interesting, however, to look at the up-to-date portions of our book a few years from now and realize how "different" we were! The main objective of our theme of nostalgia is to help the reader to realize that although clothing and general appearance may vary, sometimes drastically, from decade to decade, people themselves never really change. Similarly, throughout history we may find it remains true that "A man is as great as the truth he speaks

As great as the help he gives
As great as the destiny he seeks
As great as the life he lives
(True Greatness, by C. E. Flynn)

The people of Windber can be proud of their students and their community in general for the many worthwhile achievements which have been attained as the result of teamwork and mutual concern. Now, as we close, the 1975 Stylus Editorial and Business Staffs wish to extend our sincere wishes for the best of health, luck, and good fortune to all for the future.
